

Exceptional Kids

September 2010

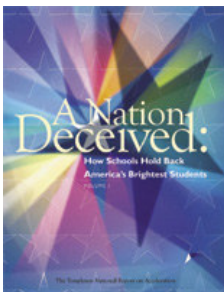

With summer behind us, and school well under way, the next part of the year focuses on you. Each month it is my hope to share some 'Exceptional' resources. If you know of other families that would be interested in receiving this monthly newsletter, please encourage them to send me their email address so that I may add them to the list. Have an 'Exceptional' September!

An 'Exceptional' Quote

"...it's easy for gifted students to lose sight of the fact that not everything that can be measured matters, and not everything that matters can be measured."

Delisle (2002)
